

GORMLESS FEMINIST OF THE MONTH

Scarlet Harris

J4MB presents the December 2014 'Gormless Feminist of the Month' award to Scarlet Harris, Women's Equality Policy Officer, at the TUC. Presumably the TUC also has a Men's Equality Policy Officer. Ms Harris recently made a contribution to a BBC radio programme piece on the gender pay gap, which put her in strong contention for the award.¹ The following exchange (starting at 2:45) clinched it:

Harris: A lot of this (the gender pay gap) is about women working in lower-paid sectors...

Interviewer: But isn't that their choice?

Harris: Um... choice is a tricky thing.

Priceless. Simply priceless.
