

Whiny Feminist of the Month

Jo Swinson MP

J4MB¹ presents its August 2014 Whiny Feminist of the Month award to Jo Swinson MP, Employment Relations and Junior Equalities Minister, who called for an end to 'pregnancy discrimination', a term used to describe the perfectly natural reluctance of companies to employ women of childbearing years, or employ them in senior roles, given the onerous legislation that effects companies. Kathy Gyngell, Co-Editor of 'The Conservative Woman' website, wrote an excellent piece on the matter.²
