Dear Mr Hodgson,

I should like to offer a presentation to your sixth-formers, but firstly some background.

I launched my political party Justice for Men & Boys (and the women who love them) – J4MB – in 2013, it remains the only party in the Anglophone world campaigning for the human rights of men and boys. Those rights are assaulted by the state's actions and inactions in many areas, we explored 20 of them in our 2015 general election manifesto.¹ In stark contrast, the human rights of women and girls specifically are assaulted by the state's actions in no areas today. None.

J4MB is the most prominent organization in the international Men's Rights Movement (MRM), a rapidly-growing movement. Since our launch, we've had more mainstream media coverage than all other organizations in the world campaigning for the human rights of men and boys, combined. I am in an unrivalled position to inform your pupils about issues affecting men and boys.

We hosted two of the four International Conferences on Men's Issues,² including the last one in London, in July.³ We have on our YouTube channel a playlist of videos of all 20 presentations at that conference,⁴ including the keynote speech by Karen Straughan, one of the world's most prominent Men's Rights Activists.⁵

I should appreciate a meeting, in which I could explain why your sixth-formers would learn much from my talk on men's issues. We have a London office (address above) but I'm seldom there – I live in Bedford – so rather than a letter, I'd appreciate a response via email (mike@j4mb.org.uk). Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Mike Buchanan

Party leader
