

James Astill

Toady n a sycophant, an obsequious flatterer; vt and vi to fawn on and flatter like a sycophant

Justice for men & boys (and the women who love them) presents a 'Toady award to James Astill, political editor of The Economist, for his contemptuous lack of interest in men's human rights. Toady awards are presented to men in positions of influence, who show no compassion for the problems faced by men and boys. Those problems result from the state's actions and inactions, in a bid to relentlessly advantage women and girls at the expense of men and boys. The background to why we've presented this award to James Astill, which illustrates why the mainstream print media is in terminal decline:
